WOMAN LEADER TELLS TEACHERS HOW TO SECURE A SALARY RAISE

After 20 Years of Agitation, Principal of Syracuse, N. Y., School Wins Great Victory—Organization the First Step in Securing to Women a Just Recognition for Services in the School Room—Details of the Plucky Efforts Put Forth by Mrs. Kate Cullen.

By Kate M. Cullen.
(Principal of the Townsend School, Syracuse, N. Y.)

Upon attaining the principalship of Townsend school 20 years ago, the first thought that suggested itself to my mind was the great inequality in the salaries of the men and women principals of the public schools in Syracuse.

The women principals received per annum $50 less than half what was paid the men.

How to remedy this injustice was the problem I set about to solve. After hours given to serious thought, I made organization the first step. A private meeting was called at the home of one of our members. As the outcome of that meeting, officers were elected, and three of the most popular of our members were appointed to interview each member of the Board of Education, the other principals to help the cause by urging any member of the board or influential citizen to favor the movement.

The First Victory.
There was a great stirring up of the women principals and their friends and they were rewarded by an additional $100 per year.

The grade teachers, therefore, also organized, and they too, were successful. Since that time three more attempts were made with success until the women principal's salaries from $700 was raised to $1,000; the grade teachers from $400 to $650.

Had to Work For It.
All of this was accomplished only after miles of pedestrianism and an unlimited use of the vocal organs in persuasion. Nor was it brought about at once. The first raise was $100, the second and third $50 each, and the last, and by far the most difficult, was successful only when 27 cities of like or nearly like population were heard from and every city officer from the mayor down the scale was presented with facts and figures in proof of the justice of our cause.

A Tip for Others.
Now, as to the best mode of procedure in such a campaign: Organization is the first step. Watch out for a Board of Education the majority of which are broad-minded men.

Have your superintendent or district commissioner in line. See that every member of your own organization is diligent and loyal in her efforts to win supporters outside of the Board of Education.

Now, as to why. The salaries of the teachers should rank as high as the other professions. The preparation necessary to fit them for the profession demands it. The formation of the characters for good or evil of the future men and women who are to preserve to the republic the blessings now enjoyed, makes teachers richly deserve good salaries.

Would you employ a lawyer just admitted to expound before a judge and jury an intricate point of law and expect him to win your case? No, no. It is the experienced physician, the successful lawyer who is rewarded, and why not the experienced teacher?

WHY HOCH IS GUNNING FOR KANSAS' LARGEST CITY

INDISCRETION OF JOINTISTS IN KANSAS CITY HAS AROUSED THE CHIEF MAGISTRATE'S IRE—WOULD TAKE AWAY CHARTER AND DISCIPLINE OFFICIALS—BRIEBY ALLEGED IN STATE'S SUIT AGAINST COUNTY ATTORNEY—EVANGELIST CHIEF OF POLICE.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 24.—The revival of prohibition is indicated in the suits instigated by Governor Hoch against the city and officials of Kansas City, Kan. The attorney general has asked the supreme court to forfeit the charter of the municipality the largest in Kansas, because it failed to enforce the anti-liquor law; has asked the impeachment of Jas. S. Gibson, county attorney, and has brought out proceedings against W. W. Rose, mayor.

Hoch is a reform governor and a strong temperance advocate. His action, in the present matter, however, follows Sunday law enforcement by Governor Polk of Missouri; denunciation by women's clubs of his inaction, and the disregard of law and decency shown by jointists of Kansas City. A big manufacturing city of 70,000, the metropolis of Kansas, finds many of the laws enacted by granger legislation galling. Especially so are the anti-liquor laws. Jointists have run since time immemorial, and in recent years their willful law breaking has been put on a business basis. Once every two months every jointist is arrested and puts up $100 cash bond. This he forfeits and the money goes into the city treasury. Sunday closing in Missouri drives hundreds of the worst class in Kansas City, Mo., to take the cars to Kansas City, Kan. So the state of Kansas has asked for the forfeiting of the charter of the city, whose officials tolerate the law-breaking, and if the state wins the county government would rule the city, and an assistant attorney general, to be appointed by the governor, would be the chief executive.

W. W. Rose, the democratic mayor of Kansas City, was elected on a platform of "Pure water, cheap gas and no graft." Rose foresaw that the purchase of the right to break the law by the jointists could not endure. He made a start toward supplying the city adequate revenue legitimately.

Rose appointed Vernon J. Rose, not a relative of his, chief of police. Vernon Rose is an evangelist. Even now he fills a pulpit Sundays. Many believe that if the two Roses could have their way, Kansas City would be well administered.

against Jas. S. Gibson, the county attorney, is that over 150 jointists every month have paid him $5 each in consideration of immunity from prosecution. Gibson denies that he ever took a cent of money from the jointists. The supreme court will take up the cases this month.

SHALAM PROPERTY IN MESILLA VALLEY SOLD.

The Shalam colony property west of Dona Ana, Dona Ana county, has been sold by the Brown Realty company of Las Cruces, to several local and a number of eastern capitalists. The purchase price is said to have been $100,000. It is stated that from $500,000 to $1,000,000 will be spent on the property to make the place one of the finest sanitariums in the world. Ample means are said to be at hand to carry out the project.

This is a well located tract, which was formerly the home of a sect of religious people, which had particular customs and ways of its own. These people installed a pumping plant and reservoir, which was washed away in the big flood of two years ago. There is a good orchard and vineyard on the land and several wells, from which an abundant supply of water can be developed.

Successful Hunting Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Finch returned late Wednesday evening from a two days' hunting trip. They went to the Gila river, between Sacaton and Tempe. Game was plentiful and they got all the quail the law allowed them, to say nothing of many rabbits and birds. They saw no ducks, however.

A Horse Fell on Him.

E. G. Watkins, who lives near Wilson's Crossing, near Phoenix, was disabled by being thrown from a horse, under which the animal fell on him. Dr. Long was summoned, and made an examination, in the course of which he discovered several injuries. Mr. Watkins' breast was badly hurt and his legs and arms were injured. It will be eight or ten weeks before he is able to do any work.

Reported New Road.

It is reported that a Pittsburgh syndicate which owns copper properties in Sonora, about thirty-five miles from Port Lobos, is contemplating building a railroad from Tucson to Port Lobos. The report could not be confirmed. It is said that Pittsburgh capital is behind the project. The road would cross the Mexican line about forty miles west of Nogales. The route is practically level and would open up a new mining country which gives great promise.

Work on Canal.

Grant Bros., the railroad contractors, finished their work on the new canal being dug by the farmers of the north side at Alhambra, paid off the men, packed all camp material, loaded it on four Santa Fe cars and left for the north, presumably to continue work on the A. & C. railway west of Wickenburg. This contract finishes the work from the Appropriators' head above Tempe to Alhambra, except one or two small gaps left by reason of recent injunctions served upon the canal owners and which are expected to be settled soon and the ditch completed.

Some New Corporations.

Articles of the following corporations have been filed in the office of the county recorder, says a Phoenix exchange: The Keeton Williams Dental Gold company, capital stock $100,000; incorporators, A. D. Williams, D. Roberts and J. G. Binkman. company, capital stock, $250,000; incorporators, J. H. Baer, H. E. Baker and L. E. Burns. The Maud S Gold Mining and Developing company, capital stock, $1,500,000; incorporators, J. Smith, J. J. Hollingsworth and J. C. Taber. The articles of the Collins-Querry company were amended fixing the capital stock at $10,000.

Died of Tarantula Bite.

Pedro Flores died at the Yuma county hospital this week from the bite of some insect, supposed to be a tarantula. One night about four weeks ago while sleeping on the ground, he was awakened by a sting in the face, which at first caused a swelling and a number of abscesses. After suffering a few weeks he came to Yuma and placed himself under the charge of Dr. Keicherside, and although every remedy that medical science has discovered was used, the poison continued to spread and finally penetrated through the eye to the brain, causing death.

The case is a singular one, and a sketch of it will be given to the medical journals.

Athletics at Tempe Normal.

Many improvements are being made at the normal at the present time, not only in the buildings, but on the grounds. H. W. Walker, superintendent of grounds, has been kept busy of late leveling suitable places for the new tennis courts. Much of this work has been completed and a couple of new courts are finished. The board has been very liberal in allowances for athletics and there is now scarcely a student in the school who does not participate in some form or other of sport evenings after the close of school. The various tennis courts, basket ball courts, etc., are not for the exclusive use of those who stay at the two dormitories, but for all students of the normal and they are entering into the different games with a will.
